

Oxford Energy

Seminar Series Trinity term 2025

5pm – 6.15pm (unless otherwise stated below)

Diversity Room, School of Geography, Oxford University, OX1 3QY
(unless otherwise stated below)

Week 1: 29th April – Grounding domestic energy models with empirical data, Tadj Oreszczyn, UCL

Week 2: 6th May – Proving and Scaling Hydrogen: Building a Viable, Commercial Hydrogen Economy from the Ground Up, Ian Wilkinson Geopura

Week 3: 13th May – Remote, Rural, and Peripheral: Energy Equity and Spatial Justice in Marginalised Contexts of the Global South, Rihab Khalid, Loughborough University

Week 4: 20th May – Annual ONE Lecture – Power to the people: civic freedoms, climate justice and the century of the citizen

Week 5: 27th May – Approaching the Energy Impact Reduction of the National Trust's Conservation Area Holiday Cottages, Holly Bailey-Burnley, MSc student

Week 6: 3rd June – Public attitudes towards energy infrastructure and technologies: Why it matters what people think and feel about the energy transition, Christina Demski, CAST ISCC

Week 7: 10th June – TBC Peter Bance

Week 8: 17th June – TBC - Drinks and snacks

